

- home
- access all areas
- the bloggers
- experience it
- stuff we love
- guest star
- sign up
- shop
- about us
- contact us
- links

three2seven

Experience it

When purchases get personal, the girls just have to share their feelings.

Experienced by Roxy Lee

March 3, 2007

It's the balm.

During the Sundance Film Festival I was on the movie-to-meeting-to-party treadmill, but that didn't stop me from discovering the best kept secret in Park City. I sort of stumbled across it as I was waiting for someone. A little shop called Mountain Body Cosmetic Deli & Spa. Upon entry I had a woman asking me if I wanted a hand treatment, as if I was going to say no. It was arctic temperatures and my hands were like razor blades.

She put a chunk of Mountain Balm and Mountain Glow Mineral Salt Rub on my hands and asked me to rub them together for one minute. After I rinsed with warm water I discovered new velvet-like hands! It wasn't over yet. This was topped off with a cream called Skin Food Massage and Body Cream. The result was beyond amazing and smelled fantastic. My hands went from what my friends called "gardener's hands" to "soft and beautiful".

I walked out with one of their gift sets plus the mountain balm. The gift set is all you need for a fantastic result but the balm used in conjunction is the BOMB. All products are natural too.

No need to fly to Park City. They ship. www.mountainbody.com

Experience it archive

March 3, 2007

It's the balm.

more...

February 22, 2007

Cosmetic Nirvana

more...

February 9, 2007

Lips that Last, and I Mean Last!

more...

February 2, 2007

In The Nip Of Time

more...

December 14, 2006

Body Composition Australia - Measuring Up!

more...

December 7, 2006

Life's Elixir

more...

November 30, 2006

A Meal to Die for...

more...

November 23, 2006